

Spain

The last day of the rally is just a short run home from the port of Almeria through the Spanish mountains to the Hotel in the resort of Mojocar. There was an interesting route which included the winding roads around the mountains and some off road riding on some fats gravel tracks. Thee was no racing as everyone just wanted to finish the rally in one piece.

In Mojocar the competitors gathered at a bar before driving in a parade through the town to the winners party at the hotel. All the teams loaded the trucks for a long drive home, before having a shower and a drink ready for the evening party.